How to get funded?

Most full-time and part-time home undergraduates will receive a tuition fee loan from the government to pay for their course fees. Maintenance loans are also available to cover living costs. However, finance for international students is more complicated as loans are available only to students who have lived in the UK for at least three years prior to starting their course.

There are plenty of scholarships, bursaries and grants available for overseas students. All of them are extremely competitive but UK universities are always looking to boost their international student numbers so time should be taken to consider all the options. The scholarships on the British Council database are funded by the UK government and external organisations. It's also worth checking your university of choice's website to see whether they have an appropriate scholarship.
